

Too many female athletes are getting put on the shelf.

Young female athletes are up to eight times more likely than boys to tear the anterior cruciate ligaments (ACL) of their knees. For more information on the prevention and treatment of ACL injuries, visit orthoinfo.org and nata.org.